

ARTS BASED CREATIVITY IN THE COMMUNITY LANGUAGES CLASSROOM

A Professional Development Resource

Jim Anderson and Yu-Chiao Chung

This booklet provides practical support for teachers of community languages working in mainstream and community settings who wish to incorporate a focus on arts based creativity (stories, drama, art works, multimedia) into their teaching approach. It draws on research carried out at Goldsmiths, University of London, funded by The Nuffield Foundation. It is also available online with related resources:
